

What are the benefits of being in RSA?

You're a member of the larger library community, dedicated to resource sharing.

By being a member, you massively expand your collection via access to nearly 4.1 million items within our shared database.

Data shows that 66.57% of RSA patron holds are filled by items owned by other libraries.

RSA consists of 135 member libraries: 3 academic, 96 publics, 34 school, and 2 specialized.

Each library serves a unique local community, which means the shared database has a highly diverse collection available to your patrons.

We value communication and meeting members where they are to provide meaningful assistance.

With our Help Desk, in-person or virtual trainings and visits, a user-experience focused website, and Email Forums, we strive to help in a way that works for your library.

Members are encouraged to provide feedback through the Directors Advisory Committee, via Email Forums and surveys, or by contacting the Help Desk.

We're driven by member-driven decision making.

Please "Bug Us" with your questions and your library's needs and wants.

We want to share everything!

RSA is transparent with members about membership fees and organizational goals.

Also, all functions of RSA's shared library automation system and online catalog are available to all RSA members.

You're part of an organization dedicated to serving our membership and listening to your needs.

Snapshot of RSA's services

RSA governance leadership opportunities.

Centralized cataloging service which provides quality cataloging, database editing, and clean-up support.

Detailed documentation and guidance for interacting with the shared library automation system.

In-person and online training opportunities through workshops and library visits.

Free up staff time with RSA's online catalog and app which allows patrons to easily view items and place system-wide holds on over 90% of all consortia holdings.

Spaces for member-to-member engagement and networking, such as RSA Day.

Access to numerous statistical reports to support data-driven decision making, plus ability to request extra or custom reports.

Timely automation system troubleshooting assistance.

Group e-book purchases, access to 55+ million online articles, and more.

Finally...

By being part of RSA you are increasing your value to the taxpayer and creating a better experience for your patrons and staff.

Contact RSA today to learn more.
help@rsanfp.org | 866-940-4083

RSA