AI-Generated Items Policy DRAFT

Last updated: XX 2025

An AI-generated item may be cataloged in the RSA database if it falls within the scope of a library's collection development policy, and the content does not violate copyright. The library – not RSA – is responsible for ensuring the content complies with copyright. If an AI-generated item is found to violate copyright, the item is considered pirated under the RSA Prohibited Items Policy, and the library must remove the item from the RSA database.
