Cataloging Code

1. Click on the first helper that is black binoculars with a red X.

2. From search options box, use the drop-down menu to select the cataloging code by which you want to search to find the items assigned to that particular code, such as the NEW-BOOK home location.

If the code by which you are trying to search, such as the STACKS home location, is not listed in the drop-down menu, please submit an RSA report request (<https://support.librariesofrsa.org/project/report-request-forms/>) to ask for a detailed report of the items assigned that particular code. The code is missing from the drop-down menu because it should not be assigned to fully cataloged items.

- Once you select the cataloging code from the drop-down menu, click OK to close the search options box.
- Type #0 into the general field and select the library by which you want to search from the library drop-down menu.

There is no space between the # and the 0. This search string tells WorkFlows to search for all items in the library's collection that are assigned the code you selected in step 2.

Clicking <Reset> on the Call Number and Item Maintenance screen does not reset the “All” in the search options helper.

If you do not completely shut Call Number and Item Maintenance and re-open it, you will see the error below when you enter a new search by author, title, etc., if none of the items in your search are assigned the code you selected in step 2.

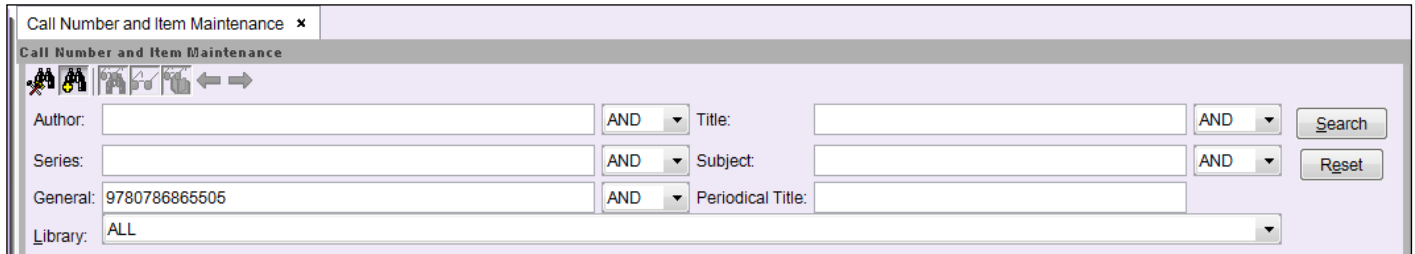

Rather than seeing this error, the search results may be incomplete if some of the items for which you are searching are assigned the code you are selected in step 2. The results are misleading because only that subset of the collection is being searched – not the whole collection.

International Standard Book Number (ISBN)

Search by ISBN first if your item has one. Check inside your item, on the back of the title page, first for an ISBN, and use that ISBN to search before you use the ISBN on the back cover.

An ISBN is entered in the General search box with no hyphens or spaces.

Use the 13-digit ISBN if both 10- and 13-digit ISBNs appear on your item.

Library of Congress Control Number (LCCN)

The LCCN can be found on the back of the title page.

If the LCCN contains a hyphen, replace it with a zero when you enter the LCCN into the General search box.

Not all books are assigned LCCNs.

The screenshot shows a web form titled "Call Number and Item Maintenance". It features several input fields for searching: "Author:", "Series:", "General:" (containing "99037294"), "Library:" (containing "ALL"), "Title:", "Subject:", and "Periodical Title:". Each field is followed by an "AND" dropdown menu. To the right of these fields are "Search" and "Reset" buttons. Above the form, there is a tab labeled "Call Number and Item Maintenance" and a toolbar with various icons.

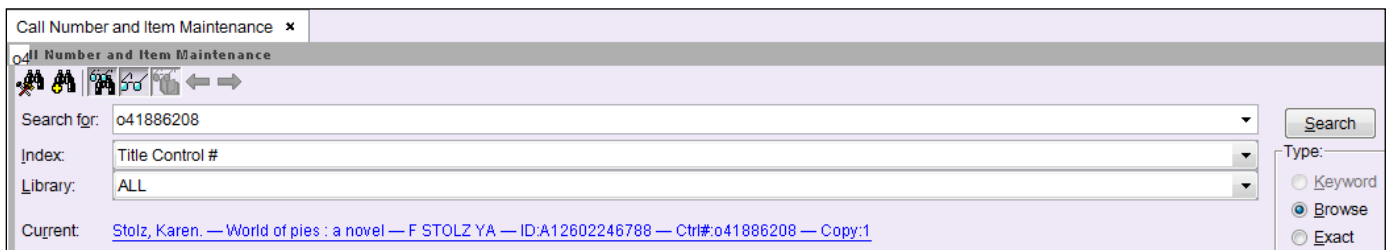

OCLC Title Control Number

All full records in WorkFlows originate from OCLC, an international database of catalog records.

Each record in OCLC is assigned a unique accession number, called the title control number. In WorkFlows the OCLC title control number can be found in the record's 001 field or on the Control tab.

An OCLC title control number search can be entered into the advanced search screen in the Call Number and Item Maintenance wizard with "Title Control #" selected as the index.

A search for an OCLC title control number is always preceded by a lower case 'o' (as in octopus).

This screenshot shows the same "Call Number and Item Maintenance" form, but with a search result displayed. The "Search for:" field contains "o41886208". The "Index:" dropdown is set to "Title Control #". The "Library:" dropdown is set to "ALL". The "Current:" field shows the search result: "Stolz, Karen. — World of pies : a novel — F STOLZ YA — ID:A12602246788 — Ctrl#:o41886208 — Copy:1". On the right side, there is a "Search" button and a "Type:" section with radio buttons for "Keyword", "Browse" (which is selected), and "Exact".

Periodical Title

This type of search will only look for titles on records assigned the serial record format.

A periodical title search can be performed as a keyword search on the main search screen or as a browse search on the advanced search screen.

Initial articles should be excluded from periodical title searches.

Periodical title keyword search:

The screenshot shows a web-based search interface titled 'Call Number and Item Maintenance'. It features a search form with the following fields and controls:

- Author: Text input field.
- Series: Text input field.
- General: Text input field.
- Library: Dropdown menu with 'ALL' selected.
- Title: Text input field.
- Subject: Text input field.
- Periodical Title: Text input field containing the word 'People'.
- AND buttons: Small dropdown menus with 'AND' selected, positioned between the Author, Series, General, Title, and Subject fields.
- Search and Reset buttons: Located on the right side of the form.

Periodical title browse search:

The screenshot shows the same 'Call Number and Item Maintenance' search interface, but configured for a browse search. The fields and controls are as follows:

- Search for: Dropdown menu with 'People' selected.
- Index: Dropdown menu with 'Periodical Title' selected.
- Library: Dropdown menu with 'ALL' selected.
- Current: A breadcrumb-style text string: 'Public Library Associatio... — Public libraries — 05&06/10 — ID:A66200769951 — Ctrl#:003889688 — Copy:1'.
- Search button: Located on the right side.
- Type: Radio button group on the right with three options: 'Keyword', 'Browse' (which is selected), and 'Exact'.

Publisher Number

The publisher number is also called:

- Manufacture number
- Music number
- Production number
- Video recording number

The publisher number is only found on AV, usually on the spine of the case or on the physical item (e.g., disc).

Type the publisher number exactly as it appears on the item into the General search box.

Searching by the publisher number and the title is helpful if the publisher number has been assigned to various titles.

- From search options box, use the drop-down menu to select the MOVIE item category 3 code.

The screenshot shows a 'Search Options' dialog box with several tabs: Search, Display, Call Number, Browse, and Print. The 'Search' tab is active. Below the tabs are various search criteria with corresponding dropdown menus or text boxes. The criteria include: Publication year (text box), Format (dropdown), Item type (dropdown), Location (dropdown), Item category 1 (dropdown), Item category 2 (dropdown), Item category 3 (dropdown, highlighted with a red rectangle and showing 'MOVIE'), Item category 4 (dropdown), Item category 5 (dropdown), Language (dropdown), Shadow (dropdown), and Sort by (dropdown). - When you are done searching for movies, completely shut Call Number and Item Maintenance by clicking <Close>. Re-open it and enter your next search.

If you do not completely shut Call Number and Item Maintenance and re-open it, you will see the error below when you enter a new search by author, title, etc., if none of the items in your search are assigned the MOVIE item category 3.

Rather than seeing this error, the search results may be incomplete if some of the items for which you are searching are assigned the MOVIE item category 3. The results are misleading because only that subset of the collection is being searched – not the whole collection.

Title and Sound Format Option #1: Sound* or Audio*

Perform a title and sound format search from the keyword search screen.

Initial articles (a, an, the) should be omitted when the title is entered into the search field. For example, to search for The Lincoln Lawyer, enter Lincoln Lawyer.

The sound format can be entered into the general search field as either sound* or audio* because both terms are used on bibliographic records that describe musical and spoken word (i.e., audiobooks).

Searching by either sound* or audio* will likely retrieve video bibliographic records because those records often contain the word “sound” in their physical description.

Title Contains “Not”

If a title contains the word “not,” type the title surrounded by quotation marks and then search. The quotation marks will avoid WorkFlows interpreting “not” as a Boolean search limiter.

A screenshot of the 'Call Number and Item Maintenance' search interface. It features a title bar with the text 'Call Number and Item Maintenance *'. Below the title bar is a toolbar with various icons. The main area contains search fields for Author, Series, General, and Library. There are also fields for Title, Subject, and Periodical Title. Each field is followed by an 'AND' or 'OR' dropdown menu. The Title field contains the text 'Not That I Could Tell' in quotes. There are 'Search' and 'Reset' buttons on the right side.

Title and Publisher

Perform a title and publisher search from the keyword search screen.

Initial articles should be omitted when the title is entered into the search field. For example, to search for The Grapes of Wrath, enter Grapes of Wrath.

The name of your item's publisher, as it appears on your item's title page or title page verso, can be entered into the General search box, followed by a single space, then either {260} or {264}.

The publisher appears in either the 260 or the 264 field depending on whether the record follows the AACR2 or RDA cataloging rules. The publisher will be in the 260 field on AACR2 records and in the 264 field on RDA records.

RSA recommends trying the {264} plus title search first. If you are unable to find a record that matches your item, try the {260} plus title search.

Title and publisher search with the 260 field:

The screenshot shows a web-based search interface titled 'Call Number and Item Maintenance'. It features a search form with the following fields and values:

- Author: (empty)
- Series: (empty)
- General: Penguin {260}
- Library: ALL
- Title: Grapes of Wrath
- Subject: (empty)
- Periodical Title: (empty)

Each field is followed by an 'AND' dropdown menu. To the right of the form are 'Search' and 'Reset' buttons.

Title and publisher search with the 264 field:

The screenshot shows the same web-based search interface as above, but with the following values:

- Author: (empty)
- Series: (empty)
- General: Twentieth Century Fox {264}
- Library: ALL
- Title: Secret Life of Walter Mitty
- Subject: (empty)
- Periodical Title: (empty)

The 'AND' dropdown menus and 'Search'/'Reset' buttons are also present.

Universal Product Code (UPC)

The UPC is the 12-digit number near the barcode on the back of the item. A UPC is entered into the General search box with no hyphens or spaces.

The screenshot shows the 'Call Number and Item Maintenance' window. It has a search form with the following fields and values:

- Author: (empty)
- Series: (empty)
- General: 678149087321
- Library: ALL
- Title: (empty)
- Subject: (empty)
- Periodical Title: (empty)

There are 'AND' dropdown menus between the fields. On the right, there are 'Search' and 'Reset' buttons.

XX Auto-Generated Call Numbers

Search your library's collection to find items assigned auto-generated call numbers that begin with XX, followed by a variable number of digits in parentheses. Items with XX call numbers may be entered for interlibrary loan items received from libraries outside RSA and for other items that are temporary to your collection, such as rental or rotating collections. XX call numbers should not be assigned to items that are permanent to your collection. XX call numbers will result in a confusing RSACat display for users and will not appear correctly on call number reports of your collection, such as shelf lists.

To find XX call numbers in your collection, type "XX" (without quotes) into the search field on the advanced screen, select call number as the index, pick your library, and click the browse option under Type.

The screenshot shows the 'Call Number and Item Maintenance' window with the following search criteria:

- Search for: XX
- Index: Call Number
- Library: FP_FORREST

The 'Type' section on the right has 'Browse' selected. The 'Current' field shows a URL: [DreamWorks Home Entertain... — Shrek 2 \[videorecording\] — JDVD SHR — ID:A32200545350 — Ctrf#o56116207 — Copy:1](#).

The 'BROWSE Call Number XX, FP_FORREST' section displays a table of results:

Call number	Title	Copies
WYM	Blue heaven : a novel / Willard Wyman.	1
XX(1113153.14)	Looking for salvation at the Dairy Queen : a novel / Susan ...	1
XX(1115785.43)	The winding ways quilt : an Elm Creek quilts novel / Jennif...	1
XX(1116401.34)	Secrets / Jude Deveraux.	1
XX(1117136.5)	Virgin River : a Barnaby Skye novel / Richard S. Wheeler.	1

Scroll down in the result list to see items currently assigned XX call numbers in your collection. If any call numbers are assigned to items permanent to your collection, click the Modify button at the bottom of the screen to open the record. Go to the Call Number/Item tab if it does not open by default, correct the call number, and save your change.
